I Want My Mommy: The Analysis of a Six-Year-Old Girl Who Experienced Loss

Friday, January 24, 2020

7:30 pm - 9:30 pm

EVENT DESCRIPTION: This case presentation will focus on clinical material from the four-year analysis of a latency girl referred after being expelled from several schools due to aggressive outbursts and early attachment disruptions in her relationship with her mother and father. The intent of the workshop is to illustrate the internal conflicts concerning a difficulty with aggression surrounding early traumatic loss of the maternal object, and explore the relationship throughout the analytic process.

PRESENTER: Felecia Powell-Williams, Ed.D., LPC-S, RPT/S

Felecia Powell-Williams is a native Houstonian. She completed her psychoanalytic training at the Center for Psychoanalytic Studies (CFPS), formerly known as Houston-Galveston Psychoanalytic Institute, and recognized by the American Psychoanalytic Association as an adult, adolescent and child psychoanalyst. Among her many roles at the CFPS she is currently President of the center's Board of Directors, a faculty member in the Adult and Child & Adolescent training programs, and Co-Chair of the Child Program. Felecia maintains a private practice providing psychoanalysis and psychodynamic psychotherapy. In 2011 Felecia assumed the position as Clinical Director of the New School in the Heights in Houston, Texas, until the schools closure Fall of 2015. Felecia Powell-Williams contributed to The Psychoanalytic Study of the Child, Volume 71 Issue 1, series of articles: So You Want to Start a Psychoanalytic School? Succumbing to an Almost "Irresistible Temptation".
