Finding the Pieces: Trauma & Reunification Within a Family

Saturday, January 25, 2020

10:00 am - 12:00 pm

EVENT DESCRIPTION: This case presentation will focus on how a mother's trauma and past experiences are woven into the clinical work of how it left her twin sons emotionally handicapped in foster care. The intent of the workshop is to illustrate the internal conflicts surrounding the early traumatic experiences and fantasies of the mother and its generational effects within the family. The case will explore how the mother's repetitive behaviors distorted the children's immature developmental and cognitive abilities.

PRESENTER: Felecia Powell-Williams, Ed.D., LPC-S, RPT/S

Felecia Powell-Williams is a native Houstonian. She completed her psychoanalytic training at the Center for Psychoanalytic Studies (CFPS), formerly known as Houston-Galveston Psychoanalytic Institute, and recognized by the American Psychoanalytic Association as an adult, adolescent and child psychoanalyst. Among her many roles at the CFPS she is currently President of the center's Board of Directors, a faculty member in the Adult and Child & Adolescent training programs, and Co-Chair of the Child Program. Felecia maintains a private practice providing psychoanalysis and psychodynamic psychotherapy. In 2011 Felecia assumed the position as Clinical Director of the New School in the Heights in Houston, Texas, until the schools closure Fall of 2015. Felecia Powell-Williams contributed to The Psychoanalytic Study of the Child, Volume 71, Issue 1, series of articles: *So You Want to Start a Psychoanalytic School?
