Discussants:

Elio Frattaroli, MD – Elio Frattaroli is a psychiatrist and psychoanalyst on the faculty of PCOP. He studied Shakespeare at Harvard in the late 1960s and trained with Bruno Bettelheim at the University of Chicago in the early 1970s before turning to medicine. He has written and lectured widely on topics including, the philosophy of science and psychoanalysis, the myopic misconceptions of neuroscience, the mind-body problem and free will, the paradoxical absence of morality in psychoanalytic theory and centrality of morality in the psychoanalytic process, and the dehumanization of American culture in reaction to the trauma of 9/11. His book, Healing the Soul in the Age of the Brain: Becoming Conscious in an Unconscious World, was first published on September 10, 2001. All of Dr. Frattaroli's contributions have been informed by his abiding interest in the history of psychoanalysis, in particular how 110 years of polarizing psychoanalytic controversy have originated in Freud's repetitive ambivalent shifts between conflicting philosophical and theoretical premises between 1893 and 1927.

Theodore Fallon, MD, MPH – Theodore Fallon, MD, MPH, FAACAP, FBPA, FABP, has a full time private practice in child and adult psychoanalysis and psychotherapy in a suburb of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. He is faculty and former Chair of the Child Psychoanalytic Training Programs at the Psychoanalytic Center of Philadelphia and Associate Clinical Professor at Drexel College of Medicine.
